IT WAS A NICE GESTURE on the part of the Campbell Kiwanis Club to induct Irma Sanders as a bonafide member of the club.

It was not an honorary membership that was given Irma. Local club officers have made that point crystal clear. She is a full-fledged voting member.

When Kiwanis International wakes up to the fact that Campbell has a woman member of what is traditionally an all-male service club, no one on the local level has any idea what will happen. If anything.

Kiwanis International, however, in the usual routine fashion, has approved the membership of Irma Sanders when the Campbell club sent in her name as a prospective member.

But you know how that is.

The office could have thought that the name was misspelled and the name should have been "Ivan" or "Irvin."

Or International could have even figured it was a man's name.

Shucks, we have known men by the name of "Evelyn" and "Pearl."

OF COURSE, NO ONE IS exactly certain if women are really barred from membership in the Kiwanis Club. Apparently the situation has never come up before.

And now with this equal-rights thing being emphasized, we wonder if the International officers really would care to make an issue out of it anyway.

But, as far as can be determined, Irma is the first woman ever on the membership rolls of the service club.

Actually Irma Sanders has had a better attendance record for the past 26 years of the Campbell Kiwanis Club than many of the members.

She became the accompaniest of the club about 26 years ago when drafted by her husband, Dave, a former Kiwanis president, to "fill in" at the piano.

And she has continued to "fill in" since that time, even after the Sanders moved to their Santa Cruz home after Dave retired as maintenance superintendent of the Campbell school district.

The membership was proposed by the membership committee and was adopted unanimously by the executive board.

We thought it was pretty cagey on the part of Irma's boosters to have a past Lt. Governor of the Kiwanians perform the induction.

That put it into the higher echelon, so to speak.

-0-

FORMER KIWANIAN LT. Governor Lowell Benson did the induction honors.

Of course, Lowell knew what he was doing every minute.

He's been around Campbell for quite a spell as operator of the Campbell Cleaners. He is considered the "dean" of the Campbell business community.

Lowell served as club president in 1949, just about four years after Irma started playing the piano regularly for the club.

And he has a record of attendance even a little better than Irma's.

Lowell served as Lt. Governor of the district just a few years ago.

We wonder what the reaction would have been, if a Lt. Gov. from the "outside" had been called in to do the job of inducting a woman member into the traditionally all-male club. Without being forewarned, that is.

There would have been some sputtering and stuttering, we imagine.

Trustees set 50-cent tax hike vote

Election in Campbell school district takes place Feb. 29

By a unanimous vote, the trustees of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District last Thursday night directed that the tax election on Feb. 29 would be for a 50-cent increase to the present rate and would be for a three-year period.

At a previous meeting, the board had scheduled the election date. But the amount of increase that would be asked for had not been specified.

The present rate of $2.55 per $100 assessed valuation will revert to $1.80, unless the voters approve the tax hike on Feb. 29. The 50-cent jump will bring the tax up to $3.05.

The reaction to the board's crucial action was mixed.

An overflow crowd was on hand for the board meeting in the district office. Herb Wadley, representing the Campbell Elementary Teachers' Association and Gordon Martin, of the West Valley Federation of Teachers, had both argued for a larger increase (75-cents to 95-cents). They indicated that they would withhold their endorsement of the proposal until they had an opportunity to examine the situation more fully.

ASSESSMENT

On the other hand, preceding the board vote, Ivan Burnett, a certified public accountant of 18468 Swarthmore, Saratoga, submitted that no tax increase was justified because of the tremendous increase in assessed valuation of property that had taken place in recent years. He said his property had jumped 30% in valuation.

Burnett also questioned whether teachers were really "underpaid", and cited a recent survey taken which indicated that the average salaries of teachers in Cupertino were higher than employees with comparable educational backgrounds at Lockheed.

J. W. Pattee, who said he represented the Central Labor Council, challenged Burnett and claimed that teachers were underpaid and that labor backing would not be forthcoming in the tax election unless the teacher groups were satisfied that the tax increase would provide adequate salary increases.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

The vote by the trustees on the amount of the tax hike came after the board had held an executive session about midway through the agenda. Trustee Mrs. Eleanor Graham-Armstrong was absent during the first part of the meeting but was on hand for both the executive session and the tax vote.

In laying the "ground rules" for the audience participation prior to the board taking action on the size of the tax increase, MacQuiddy reported that (1) the tax election committee had recommended a 40-45 cent increase; (2) the teachers' groups had suggested a 75-95 cent jump; (3) the district administrators had submitted a 50-cent proposal and that (4) he (MacQuiddy) at the last meeting had presented a 50-cent suggestion.

The board president then suggested that the discussion should be limited to five minutes per person.

TIME LIMIT

Wadley, the first speaker, claimed that five minutes was not enough time to clarify the situation. In his statement, Wadley argued that a 50-cent hike would allow for basic salary increases or expansion of programs.

Wadley "demanded" that the board "freeze" all budgetary items at this year's level and that no increases in any budgetary category be made without making like adjustments to salaries of teachers below $20,000.

Both Trustee Ralph Steinberg and MacQuiddy told Wadley that such a demand would be almost the same as "pre-negotiating." They added that the board could not be limited in such a fashion because of changing priorities.

Martin, the WVFT spokesman, maintained that his group could not support a tax increase that would not provide for an adequate program and salaries. He emphasized

FUND FOR MOTHER

The fund to offset medical expenses for Jeanie Robinson, Campbell resident whose husband and three sons lost their lives in a tragic fire two weeks ago has reached $250, according to officials of the Wells Fargo Bank of Campbell.

Los Gatos Community Hospital, where Mrs. Robinson is confined to the intensive care unit, is donating hospital facilities, according to Rev. Joseph Green, hospital Chaplain.

Donations to the fund may be made at the bank or through Home and School representatives at Campbell and Hazelwood Schools.

School district business manager plans to retire

Written notice of retirement plans of C. E. (Brad) Bradley, who will complete 20 years as business manager of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District in May, 1972, have been received by the trustees, Dr. Richard MacQuiddy, board president, announced last Thursday.

Neither MacQuiddy nor Bradley, however, elaborated on the statement as to date or other details.

However, acting Superintendent Jim D'Avis, at MacQuiddy's direction, explained that the position of Supervisor of Accounts was open in the district.

He recommended that the district begin search for a qualified person to fill that position. He added that the person selected could be considered as a likely candidate to succeed the business manager upon his retirement.

The board unanimously approved the acting superintendent's recommendation.

The statement pertaining to the retirement of the business manager was read by MacQuiddy after the board had reassembled in the board room after an executive session midway through the regular meeting.

The statement in full was as follows: "The Business Manager has given written notice to the Board President, through the Superintendent's Office, of his retirement plans which gives adequate time to make a thorough search for a replacement."

In another personnel matter, MacQuiddy announced that the board would meet in an executive session this Thursday, Dec. 16, to "evaluate" the position of superintendent.

Biles gets school job

James A. Biles, 49, of 142 McBain [illegible] Campbell, this week began work as supervisor of buildings and grounds of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District.

Biles, a former general contractor, has been employed as a construction inspector for various school districts in the area since 1967. He takes the place of Ernie Leick, of 718 Pollard Rd., Campbell, who is retiring from the position after many years of service with the district.

Biles was selected for the position after many applicants had been screened for the job. His appointment was officially announced at the board meeting last Thursday.

AT "TOWERS" AND PRUNEYARD

Sahadi plans new 10-story building

Plans for a proposed 10-story office building, adjacent to the 18-story "Towers" at the PruneYard will be before the Planning Commission next Monday, Dec. 20, for approval.

Fred Sahadi, developer of the Towers and PruneYard, is first requesting a zone change to C-2-0 so that the present height limitation of 75-feet in a C-2-S can be exceeded and then has presented the building plans for the 10-story glass and aluminum structure that will be located just off Campbell Ave. in front of "The Towers".

The plans call for a building 140-feet in height and ground coverage of 13,320 square feet. There will be a total of 97,600 square feet of rental floor area in the building.

Also on the Commission's agenda next Monday will be the request of J. P. Clark and Fred ReHorn to establish a youth center at 1065 Florence Way. The Youth Commission has not approved the project.

Residents seek Amato hearing postponement

Residents protesting the proposed development of the 31-acre Amato property between Campbell and Latimer avenues will have to wait until Monday, Dec. 27, to see whether the hearing on the plan can be continued to a later date.

That was the report at the City Council meeting on Monday.

The site plan and zone change was approved by the Planning Commission last week by a 5-2 vote. It is scheduled to come before the Council on Dec. 27 for final action. The notice for the public hearing on that date has already been published.

Bob Sneed, of 241 Victor, spokesman for the residents in the area adjacent to the proposed development of Dura Style Homes on the Amato parcel, on Monday asked the Council to defer the public hearing to Jan. 10 because of the holiday season.

He also filed a petition signed by residents asking that the hearing be continued until the second meeting in January.

City Attorney Bob Dempster informed the Council that no action could be taken on deferment until the public hearing was opened.

Thus the Council took no action on the request. None of the councilmen indicated what action would be taken on Dec. 27.

The Council deferred taking action Monday on the replacement of the tree at the city hall that was estimated to cost $750. It was the general feeling that a less costly tree should be obtained.

The Council upheld the Planning Commission in the denial of the appeal of Patricia Fletscher who had been denied the use of basement storage space in a professional office building at 1610 La

Police make arrests in murder case

Two suspects were arrested this week by Campbell police and charged with a murder that was committed in a parking lot near Cisco's at 723 W. Hamilton Ave. seven months ago.

Acting Police Chief Don Burr said that it was a combined effort of the department that led to the arrest of the two suspects in the shotgun killing of Burl Fortney on May 1.

He said the officers had followed every lead to the fullest extent and that the recovery of the alleged weapon last week was their biggest break.

Sgt. Furtaw said that their investigation showed that the alleged murder weapon had changed hands by sale and other means approximately seven times.

Capt. Kelly is in charge of the case and filed murder complaints with the D.A.'s office this week.

Clayton, who was arrested at the county jail minutes after he had posted bail for a traffic violation for which he had been confined for the past week.

The other suspect, Stanley Charles Rush, 27, is presently serving time in a state prison following his conviction for an unrelated crime.

Eight new directors of Chamber of Commerce take office next month

Eight new directors have been elected by the Chamber of Commerce to serve for the next two years. They will take office on January 6 and will be formally installed at the annual dinner-dance on January 14 at the Villa Felice.

The last monthly luncheon meeting of the year for the CofC will take place this Thursday, Dec. 16 at Zorba's when the Madrigal Singers from West Valley College, in keeping with the holiday season, will be featured at the annual informal program. The singers are directed by Kenneth Jewell.

This will be the last luncheon meeting over which Norm Paul, 1971 president, will preside. And it will also be the last such meeting for six of the directors whose terms expire on December 31.

The eight new directors were elected by written ballots of the membership after being nominated by the executive committee. For the first time, the executive committee only nominated enough candidates to fill the vacancies that exist. However, the ballots allowed spaces for the membership to write in nominees.

There are seven "hold-over" directors who will serve the next year. The CofC also expects to appoint four "directors-at-large" who will serve for one year.

Paul, president during the past year, will also serve on the board for the next year.

The new directors include, Father Leonard Bose, St. Lucy's; Al Blaine, Aero Pharmacy; John Copper, IBM card plant; Gordon Craig, United California Bank; Ed Fabbri, Bank of America; Phil Olavarri, Killroy Pest Control; Bob Peck, Campbell High principal, Jack Reilly, Red Carpet Advertising.

Fabbri is the only one of the eight new directors who served on the board during the past year.

The seven carry-over board members are, Jim Baker, attorney; Dale Pedersen, Stevens Fabrics; Bob Cowan, Wells Fargo; Lowell Grattan, developer; Al LaPlante, New York Life; Bob Tellesen, United Rent-All and Ira Kirkorian, developer.

Six directors who have completed their "tour of duty" are "retiring." This Thursday (Dec. 16) will be the last meeting for their current terms.

Among those "retiring" is Holly Vollenweider, local realtor, who was second vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce during the past year.

Vollenweider, who was slated to move up to first vice-presidency this year and take over the gavel of office the next year, decided to step down because of the press of business.

Al LaPlante, who was first vice-president of the CofC this past year, is scheduled to succeed Paul but two vice-presidents will have to be chosen by the board at the first meeting of the year.

Also "retiring" is Jim Schafer, of Home Savings, who served as treasurer last year. Thus a new treasurer will be named at the first meeting also.

Directors stepping out, in addition to Vollenweider and Schafer, include, Bill Deal, West Valley College; Tom State, First National Bank; Myron Alexander, realtor and Dean Vesling, IBM card plant.

Campus hangup

At the first public hearing conducted by the Planning Commission with the objective in mind basically of examining the city's general plan, the perennial question of the future of the "temporary" campus of West Valley College again came to the forefront.

The first hearing pertained to the downtown area.

It is the objective of the Planning Commission to move the subsequent hearings throughout the city.

The hearings will be held in the areas that will be under discussion. For example, the second hearing is scheduled for this evening at the Campbell Elementary School, adjacent to Rincon Park, and attention will be focused on the immediate area around the park.

The question, of course, that will highlight every hearing is whether the general plan should be upgraded now that a number of years have gone by since the plan was adopted.

The city's general plan was actually adopted in 1960. However, in 1968 an advanced planning program was developed by Management & Economics Research Incorporated (MERI) that was financed in part through an urban planning grant from the U.S. Department of Urban Development.

Because it came under provisions of Section 701 of the Housing Act, this updating of the 1960 plan was called the "701 program."

The MERI report in 1968 emphasized that Campbell was in the path of significant growth and that a large part of any new development would be of a more intensive type than in the neighboring communities.

The report further stipulated that growth was inevitable and that the planning patterns recommended were directed toward guiding new development within the framework that existed.

It was felt that the 1960 general plan on a broad policy basis had spelled out the basic objectives but that more detailed plans and programs were needed to guide development in certain areas.

And thus the "701" program of 1968 developed detailed recommendations for specific neighborhoods and key areas.

And it is these "specific areas" that are now being scrutinized by the Planning Commission at the "mobile" public hearings in which the public has been invited to participate.

The first of the scheduled public hearings on the 1968 plan concerned "Specific Area II" which includes the major part of the community of Campbell prior to this city's incorporation in 1952.

Roughly it extends from the freeway on the east to Winchester on the west and from Hamilton to the San Tomas Expressway, north and south.

And, of course, it includes the co-called "core area" or downtown sector.

Most of the discussion at the hearing centered on the downtown section. It was the consensus that the guidelines that were outlined in 1968 are being followed in that area.

It was the MERI report that suggested the loop system for moving traffic through the downtown area based on the conclusion that revitalization of Campbell Ave. business district was necessary and Campbell Ave. did not have the capacity to move peak hour traffic without undue congestion.

The north loop plan line has been established and the first link (on the south end of the city hall) has been built.

The MERI report recommended the urban renewal process be used to improve the area. And the city has taken the first steps toward that by establishing the Campbell Redevelopment Agency.

Thus there have been definite moves made to implement the recommendations of the MERI report.

But there is still the "hang-up" of the West Valley College campus at Winchester and Campbell Avenues.

The report stated: "The West Valley Junior College is suggested for retention and rehabilitation as a distinctive office center complex.....

"WVJC plans call for relocation in the near future, The junior college site represents a key downtown location, and should be given substantial study before a final decision is made on its use!"

That was the statement in the 1968 advanced planning program.

It emphasized that the college campus is a "key downtown location." That was three years ago.

It still holds true.

But until some definite idea is presented by the college authorities as to what the future holds for the "temporary" campus, (it has been in existence now for eight years), the City is thwarted from implementing any definite planning program.

wonder whether Kiwanian Irma now will be groomed by the club politicos to go up the ladder of the club officialdom, i.e., first being named a director and then an officer and ultimately wielding the gavel as president.

Now that really would be something.

But we are just being facetious.

We realize it was a sincere tribute on the part of members of the Campbell club to show their appreciation of the conscientious role Irma has played over the years in the local club.

And then, of course, there is another factor to consider, as far as being a director of the local club is concerned.

We gather as an outsider (we have no service club affiliation) that the directors have traditionally met monthly on a Wednesday night.

There is a long-standing rule that all club business MUST be finished by 9 p.m., so that the directors can really get down to work.

It has not been announced as yet whether Irma has the basic qualifications for a director.

Does she know for example, what a straight flush is?

AT THE LAST SCHOOL board meeting when the trustees voted to ask for a 50-cent tax hike at the polls on Feb. 29, we were impressed by the subtle change that had taken place in audience participation.

In almost every instance, the person who was addressing the board would stand, be recognized by the chair, and then give his name before making his point.

Some of you may recall this several weeks ago in this column, at the risk of being called "stuffy" or worse, we were somewhat critical of the manner in which most members of the audience addressed the school board.

In most cases, a person would start talking from a sitting position without bothering to be recognized.

We suggested that common courtesy seemed to call for a person to rise from his seat when addressing the board.

We further submitted that it would not be necessary for Herb Wadley or Gordon Martin, representing the teacher group, to give their names each time they wanted to say something.

They would only need to identify themselves the first time up during the evening.

-0-

ANYWAY AT THE LAST board meeting, both Herb and Gordon identified themselves and stood up whenever they made their pitches.

We thought it made quite an improvement in the proceedings.

Apparently Dr. Richard MacQuiddy, board president, thought so too, because Dick suggested on several occasions for the person speaking to give his name for the benefit of the press. (Small letters in "press" as Jose Stell from the Merc was also on hand.)

We know it is a small point to belabor. But it has been our contention for a long time that common courtesy never goes out of style.

We concede, of course, that the people might have been a trifle self-conscious about the "new" style.

That was evident when Wadley turned to the press table and prefaced his identification with "For the benefit of George Vierhus---"

We took it as a compliment, although Herb may not have meant it thataway.

Maybe the ol' limb still has a clout.

INTRODUCED AT THE board meeting was James Biles, newly-appointed superintendent of building and grounds.

Biles takes the place of Ernie Leick who retires today (Dec. 15) after many years of service to the Campbell Union School District.

Acting Superintendent Jim D'Avis made the introductions and explained that Biles was selected after a lengthy screening process.

After Biles had met each board member and had returned to his seat, D'Avis suggested that there was another person he should meet who was sitting in the row right behind him.

It was Margaret Leick, Ernie's wife.

As the two were shaking hands, Margaret uttered the valedictory that brought down the house, and probably slightly shocked the new employee as well.

"You poor man," she exclaimed.

FOR THE PAST WEEK or so, we have been trying to differentiate between two bugs.... 1) flu or 2) common cold.

Unfortunately, it was based on personal observation.

If it was a cold bug that hit us, for sure it was not the "common" variety.

On the other hand, we managed after a fashion to be on deck most of the time, so maybe the "flu bug" didn't make the grade.

But we owe Al Blaine, of the Aero Pharmacy, credit for offering the one bright spot of the buggy week.

Al explained that if a person gets the flu, chances are the immunity will be built up for four years from having another bout.

That is not true with a cold. Apparently you can keep on getting them, one after another.

We suppose that is some consolation. Or is it?

Because we still are not sure what was bugging us.

Don Bergstrom, principal of Blackford School, and president of the administrators' association, said that his group would support the 50-cent increase. He said that it was felt that it would provide a basically improved program and some other improvements.

MacQuiddy moved that the 50-cent increase be adopted for a period of three years. Mrs. Eleanor Graham-Armstrong seconded the motion and the other trustees, Dr. Robert King, Mrs. Judy Ruscigno and Steinberg all voted "aye".

West Valley Dodge was awarded the contract for a 3/4 ton pickup for the public works department with a low bid of $3,990.15. Three bids were submitted. Ricker Machine Co. was awarded the bid for the self-propelled vibrating edge roller for $2,913.75. It was the only bid submitted.

The Council also approved the development plans of Alan Sims for an English-style house at 866 E. Campbell Ave. which Sims plans to convert into an English "pub". The Planning Commission had given prior approval.

Robber gets bank deposit

Two armed robberies occurred in the city during the past week.

The first was an attempted robbery of Freddie's Liquors, 1470 W. Campbell Ave. on Sunday evening. Owner Douglas H. Whitaker was approached by a man brandishing a revolver as he waited on customers about 8:10 p.m.

The man informed Whitaker that "this is a hold-up" and Whitaker responded, "You're kidding." Whitaker further informed the man that he recognized him. The robber then offered a check to pay for the two cartons of cigarettes and bottle of liquor which he had brought to the checkstand. When Whitaker refused, he left empty-handed. Campbell Police later arrested James Clinton Williams, 38, of 2094 Foxworthy, on charges of attempted armed robbery.

Another bandit who held up David Benton as he approached the night depository at Bank of America, Prune-Yard branch, at 7:30 Monday morning was more successful. The man, wearing a ski mask and carrying a gun, took Benton's night deposit for Four 'N 20 Pies Inc. and his car, later found abandoned at Hamilton Plaza Shopping Center.

Fire hits apartment

A stick of incense apparently started a fire before dawn on Sunday, according to the Campbell Fire Department, which caused about $20,000 damage to a four-plex at 238 Erie Way.

The roof was destroyed and two apartments were heavily damaged. Investigation revealed that the fire broke out at about 5 a.m. after heat from a stick of incense cracked a thin dish and ashes set a bed afire in a first floor apartment.

The apartment was occupied by two young women who were not present when the blaze started. Occupants of the next door first floor apartment and three teen-age boys in the second upper floor dwelling smelled smoke and escaped the blaze.

Fire department offers holiday safety suggestions

Chief George R. Maxwell of the Campbell Fire Department suggests the following tips for a safe holiday season for you and your family:

CHRISTMAS TREE

1. Before you set the tree up, make a fresh, diagonal cut at the base.
2. Place it in a stand which has a container for water and keep the water level above the top of the cut.
3. Position the tree away from radiators and fireplaces.
4. Use only Underwriters' Laboratories approved wiring and lights. Check them carefully for frayed cords, broken sockets and loose connections, before stringing on the tree. Do not overload circuits. Do not plug and unplug tree lights underneath the tree.
5. NEVER use candles on a tree.
6. Do not use flammable decorations around the base of the tree or on it. If you use metal foil icicles or tinsel, see that no piece of foil is touching a light, socket, or cords. Decorations made of metal or glass are non-flammable.
7. When you trim or dismantle the tree, use a step stool or ladder to reach the upper branches. If children help trim it, reserve the lower branches for them.
8. Do not smoke while trimming the tree or taking it down.
9. Turn off tree lights before you leave the house.
10. TAKE THE TREE DOWN WHEN THE NEEDLES START TO FALL.
11. When you're unwrapping gifts, have a waste basket or carton handy for the discarded wrappings and dispose of them as soon as gift unwrapping is over.

HOLIDAY DECORATIONS

1. If you use Christmas greens, place them where they cannot be ignited by lighted candles, a spark from the fireplace, or other source of flame.

Remove them before they become too dry.

2. An electric candle can be used in your window; however, if you do use a wax candle, place it away from decorations, curtains, and other flammable materials.
3. When buying such things as paper tablecloths, cotton batting for trimming, and crepe paper, look for fire resistent materials.
4. Attractive decorations can be made out of non-flammable materials, too, or use figurines of clay, glass, porcelain, wood, and the non-flammable plastics.
5. If you are decorating for a party at school or some other public place, consult with your local fire department when you plan your decorations.
6. When you have an adult party at home, there may be a number of people who will be smoking. Provide plenty of ashtrays for your guests.

When you have a sitter to look after the youngsters, give her instructions and show her where to find the necessary food and clothing. Tell her how she can reach you if she should find it necessary. Show her the exits to your house and see if she knows how to call the fire department. She should get the children out before doing anything else.

Mountain Life is at a peak

Tall, wavy-haired Tom Hendrick, whose appearance is reminiscent of legendary frontiersmen like Davy Crockett and Daniel Boone, greets customers at his newly opened store, "Mountain Life", with a hearty "Welcome!"

Watching Tom and his lithe, blond wife, Gayle, circulating among the patrons in their store in Campbell Plaza on Winchester Blvd., is more than seeing salesmanship in action.

As Tom Hendrick says, "Everybody that we've made a sale to has become a friend. A lot of times people just stop in to say Hi!"

On Oct. 2, just one month after they moved here from Los Angeles, the Hendricks opened the small specialty shop, which stocks colorful gear for mountaineering, backpacking, hiking and ski-touring, an inexpensive version of cross-country skiing.

Escapees from the "physical and mental pollution of Los Angeles," the Hendricks wanted to "put aside knotted ties and wingtipped shoes." Their dream was to shake out of the 9 to 5 rut by selling the paraphernalia for backpacking, one of their favorite hobbys, in a friendly, one-of-a-kind store where customers were more than mere numbers.

Their dream came true—in a record-breaking one month's time, because the couple has the kind of rapport with young people that stimulates a special response.

"Good Karma" said Hendrick, describing how dozens of young people, attracted by the enthusiasm and individualism of Tom and Gayle, flocked to the empty white shell of a building, in Campbell Plaza.

Armed with saws, hammers, paintbrushes and friendliness, the youth worked side-by-side with the Hendricks; transforming the building into an attractive and well-stocked store; ready for the very first customers—all in the space of one month!

"It was fantastic!" said Hendrick.

Among those who helped were several San Jose State students, who contributed time as part of (Y.S.I.) Youth Science Institute, a work-study program at the college. The Blue Grass Wabash, a group of young musicians, also befriended the couple.

Twenty-three year old Bruce Putterbaugh did most of the carpentry, including the scalloped exterior and the inside clothing display platform —he refused pay.

The good will wasn't only local though. Even before they left Los Angeles, friends gave their dreams a boost by laying out posters, designing the store front, and finally, helping the Hendricks move.

The final result?....Soft dome lights suspended from the ceiling brighten the wood-paneled walls and the nylon jackets, tents and sleeping bags scattered around the store.

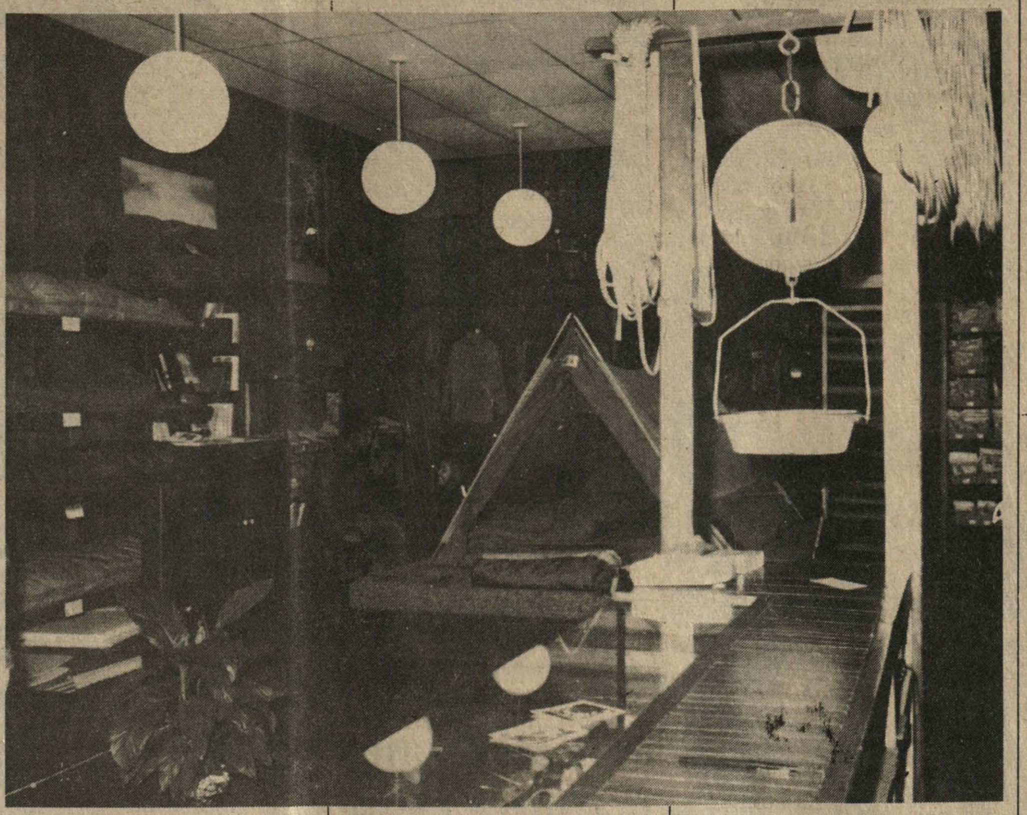
Lining the walls are paintings and posters of the "beautiful earth," deep forests, and radiant mountain peaks including a treasured photograph of a sunburst over a mountain in Nepal.

The Hendricks still talk about Los Angeles, somewhat grimly. Tom Hendrick was a sales manager for a large corporation, while Gayle was an elementary schoolteacher.

Gayle didn't give up her career when they moved, so Tom handles the shop while she's working with the help of Dan McHale, a 19 year old mountain climbing enthusiast. Gayle teaches emotionally disturbed children at Daves Ave. Elementary School in Los Gatos.

Hendrick admits that the "Good Karma" didn't work as well in Los Angeles. For Tom and Gayle Hendrick, Campbell was the right place to come. And, Tom says, "Business is incredible!"

PACK FITTING---Dave Manske tries on one of the back packs which mountain climbers use. On the right are stocks of dehydrated foods. Manske is one of many outdoor enthusiastics who frequents the new Mountain Life store at 2513 Winchester Blvd.



EVERYTHING FOR MOUNTAINEERING---The rich interior of the Mountain Life store, 2513 Winchester Blvd., boasts everything from a scale on which to weigh a pack, to foodstuffs and tents. At the far rear of the store Gayle Hendrick fits Dave Manske with hiking boots.

CLIMBING LIBRARY---Gayle Hendrick arranges books in the library in the Mountain Life store, a new store specializing in goods for the out-of-doors.

Pacific Telephone says make overseas call arrangements now

Pacific Telephone today reminded families and friends of U.S. servicemen in Vietnam to plan ahead for holiday telephone calls between the two countries.

"If you have holiday greetings to exchange by phone with a relative or friend in Vietnam, arrange to have him place the call from there," suggested local phone manager Jim Bower.

He said that trying to reach a particular serviceman quickly by calling from here is close to impossible, because servicemen are likely to be on duty or stationed in remote areas where they're extremely difficult to locate.

"To minimize these difficulties, special arrangements have been made again this year to permit servicemen to call home at the times most convenient for them," said Bower.

Many servicemen call from the U.S.O. center in downtown Saigon, but calls also can be placed from a number of hospitals and service centers at bases elsewhere in the country, according to Bower.

He also advised the families and friends of Americans stationed in other Southeast Asian countries to make arrangements for the servicemen to originate their holiday telephone calls, since they too often are difficult to locate.

Rates on telephone calls at all hours between the United States and Vietnam are $9 for a three-minute station-to-station call and $12 for a three-minute person-to-person call, said Bower, but servicemen can call collect so that the messages can be paid for at home.

Vietnam is 13 hours ahead of Pacific Standard Time.

Professionals seek employment

In September 1970, a small group of unemployed professionals organized, called themselves appropriately "Experience Unlimited," and proceeded to develop a successful job recruitment program.

Affiliation with the Department of Human Resources Development (HRD), 297 W. Hedding St., San Jose, led to adequate office space, telephone and mail service and secretarial assistance.

Utilization of the HRD facilities provided "Experience Unlimited" with the spark needed to spurt ahead to bigger and better job placement. Things were beginning to happen.

A sizeable segment of the unemployed engineers, scientists, managers and administrators registered with the innovative job-seekers. Many volunteered to aid the staff in cataloging thousands of resumes, screening applicants, and submitting candidates to prospective employers.

Employer response to the call from "Experience Unlimited," was overwhelming.. Approximately 520 professionals have been placed in satisfactory jobs at no fees whatsoever!

According to John Delsing, the organization chairman, "We have an active file of about 1200 unemployed professionals, dynamically engaged in the pursuit of meaningful employment. We are calling out to area employers for help – although we don't want charity, in the form of mundane, or sub-standard positions. These men and women are real performers with proven records of accomplishment."

Surprising to employers who contact "Experience Unlimited" is the fact that the job-seekers accept lower, but reasonable salaries; surpass employers' expectations; and most rewarding of all, they remain with the firm on a permanent basis and develop into a valuable asset. Mature professionals are available NOW!

Employers can reach "Experience Unlimited" at 287-7505, extension 225.

Children need permanent homes

Every Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter, the County Social Services Department receives many phone calls asking to take a foster child home for a family-style Christmas or Thanksgiving celebration.

"We appreciate these feelings," said Joan Beyrer, foster home recruiter, "and recognize the caller's good intentions. But the county cannot 'lend' children for just a day because of legal involvements and the emotional upset the visit many times causes for the child."

She explained that the children do have a holiday meal and will receive presents and most of the children do have visits from their parents.

The most important part of the holiday season for children is to share it with someone they know and care about, Mrs. Beyrer said.

People who show a desire to help are referred to the Voluntary Action Center, a clearing house for people who want to devote time, money or articles to needy children or families. The Voluntary Action Center number is 244-5252.

Mrs. Beyrer also said that although the department cannot fill these particular requests, there is a critical need in Santa Clara County for long-term foster homes for children, particularly for children between the ages of 10 and 18.

Homes for teenagers are almost non-existent and there are about 20 teenagers currently awaiting homes. Children need homes the year around, not just for a day. Anyone interested in becoming a foster parent through the foster home program can call 299-2981.

Camp Fire Girls

by Ellie Rumbaugh

The Christmas season is well underway for the District Nine Camp Fire Girls. It began last week-end with the annual Christmas Craft Fair. Due to the large number of groups participating it was held at two schools simultaneously, Fisher Junior High and Rolling Hills Junior High. Blue Birds, Camp Fire, Discovery Club, and Horizon Club girls made all of the items that were sold.

Many of the groups are caroling at local shopping centers and Convalescent Hospitals over the holidays. Those groups caroling at Valley Fair are treated to hot chocolate at Manning's Cafeteria. On Dec. 20 at 7:30 all the groups from Saratoga will be singing at Westgate Shopping Center. They also will be presenting their evening of song on another evening for the residents of Westgate Convalescent Hospital.

Other groups are making tray favors and wrapping gifts for those people that will be unable to go home for the day.

Musical theater performs plays

"Hansel and Gretel" and "Little Red Riding Hood," two "one-act" children's operettas written by John P. Healy Jr. will be performed at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 8 and 3 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 9.

Both plays performed by the San Jose Children's Musical Theater, will be held at the St. Frances Cabrini Hall on Camden Ave. Admission is $1 for adults and 50-cents for children under 13.

Heading the cast of "Hansel and Gretel," directed by Camden High student Robbi Thornburg, are Robert Boitano as Hansel, Diana Drewes playing Gretel, David Tollner as the father, with Jean Sudyka as the witch and Julie Valenti and Peggy Sudyka portraying the wolves. Assisting the director are Carol Valenti and Gary Seeburger, technical director.

In "Little Red Riding Hood" are Paula Mulcahey as Little Red, Steve Isom playing Uncle Bill, Maurice Agrillo as the den chief, Kirby Carr as grandmother, along with a chorus of townspeople and a pack of wolf cubs. This production is directed by Leigh High student Mark Healy, assisted by Alice Arico.

A production of the much heralded musical "Oliver!" is scheduled by the (SJCMT) San Jose Children's Musical Theater for Jan. 29, 30 and Feb. 5, 6, 10 and 12, at the St. Frances Cabrini Hall. For this production, using over 220 youngsters from 6-18 years of age, there will be a three level stage built in an attempt to simulate the different levels of London. Directing this production is John P. Healy, Jr., the SJCMT resident director. A donation of $1.50 for adults and $1 under 13 is requested.

For further information and tickets, call 377-6818 or 371-0232.

Campbell High recycles tin

Campbell High students held their first aluminum drop-in center on Saturday, December 4.

The bin for the aluminum recycling program will be in the faculty parking lot on the first Saturday of each month from 10 a.m. to noon.

Aluminum cans may be identified by their soft metal, and lack of a side seam.

TONGUES

DARTING AROUND

with Tom Carroll

While only 16 pairs entered the Doubles Preliminaries at the Black Knight last Wednesday some great dart games were shot.

The top 10 qualify for the chance to meet their counterparts from the other five leagues of the NCDA. The matches were played out to only the first and second places with League Governor Jack Mehtala and his partner Bill Gillespie from Sunnyvale's Andy Capp's Tavern taking first. Their opponents in the final match were Mike Adams and Herb Heath from the Scarlet La Rue's II in Los Gatos.

Others making the field were: Tom Potts and John Scanlan (Andy Capp's) Mike Devore and Bryan Riley (Scarlet La Rue's II); Milt Memmott (Black Knight, Campbell) and Darla Nelson (Lancashire Lad IV, Los Gatos); Gus Spencer and Marty Martin (Banbury Clock II, San Jose); Tom Carroll and Les Quinn (Black Watch I, Los Gatos); Bud Gaither and Pete Webster (Black Knight); Terry Elliott and Clay Cowden (Black Knight) and Chuck Peterson and Rick James (Black Knight).

SOUTH BAY LEAGUE

The South Bay League had a little larger turn out at the Prince of Wales in San Mateo. They had 21 pairs. They did not play out after they qualified ten places. The qualifiers were: Tom Patton and Marty Gibson (Banshee's, Burlingame) Ray Hingston and Des Banks (Lancashire Lad I); Gary Curtaz and Dave Pena (Scarlet La Rue's I); Marv Wernli and John Burke (Harold's of Redwood City);

Kip Fanjoy and Phil Albers (Scarlet La Rue's I); Rick Miller and Paul Schultz (Banbury Clock I); Pat Stratford and Dudley Battrick (Banshees) Larry and Roy Trinta (Banshees); Eric Branthwaite and Roy Haslam (Lancashire Lad I) and Randy Ceruti and Dave Galbraith (Primrose Lanes II).

HIGH SCORES

There were six 140's shot between the two leagues. Clay Cowden of the Black Knight, Bryan Riley of Scarlet La Rue's II, and Marty Martin of Banbury Clock II hit in the El Camino League. Ted Allen of the Scarlet La Rue's I, Bobbie Lindsay of the Gaslighter Theater II and Paul Schultz of Banbury Clock I popped 140's in the South Bay League.

High score for the evening goes to Des Banks of the Lancashire Lad I with a 174. High out of the evening was shot by one of the 140 shooters, Bryan Riley who popped a 112-out (triple 20, single 20 and double 16).

Two of the Banbury Clock II players loaded up on high scores. Max Robinson shot a 125, 105, 112 and a ton (100). Gus Spencer had a 121, 105 and a ton.

MIXED DOUBLES

Bobbie Lindsay of the Gaslighter Theater II and Kip Fanjoy of the Scarlet La Rue's I took the Mixed Doubles Championship of the NCDA. The runners-up were Don and Ruth Halter of the Courtyard II Prosecutors.

During the course of the afternoon Colin Haughlin of the English Pub's Bloody Rejects popped a 180, three triple 20's. This tournament also saw several 140's.

AUTHOR

Anita E. Posey, second grade teacher at Blackford Elementary School is among the contributors in the December issue of "Instructor."

Mrs. Posey is the author of a Christmas poem presented in that publication.

CONCERT

An instrumental and vocal music program of traditional Christmas favorites will be presented in the cafetorium of Campbell Elementary School on Thursday, December 16 at 7:30 p.m.

Music groups represented in the concert include the Campbell School Band, directed by Ed Tonini; the intermediate Chorus, led by Eleanor Scherer and the Uppergrade Chorus, under the direction of Carol Eason.

There's more to do...
Give more to Christmas Seals

Young Lyn Carvell, Christmas Seal Youth Chairman, is making news with her high school classmates by reminding them that Christmas Seals work to prevent emphysema, asthma, tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases.

PRIMARY GRADES PERFORM---Student carolers of St. Lucy's School had a "dress rehearsal" at the Campbell Garden Club's luncheon last week in the church hall. The choristers will sing for other school events, including a Mother's Guild meeting.

AT CITY HALL

The old saying, "You can't fight city hall" isn't quite true any more. One LITTLE man in Watsonville, California proved otherwise. This man has always been acutely aware of the great physical beauties of this great land.

When he heard that a nearby lake might be unindated by a development of mobile residences on a bluff over-looking the lake, his mind's eye could just picture 500 boats squeezed like sardines into a can, and a potentially beautiful recreation place shot down the tubes. So he did something about it.

After careful study, he submitted a four page report to city hall. They were impressed and passed it along to the city planning commission. After two readings, the commission voted to refuse permission to the developer. Of course, he didn't really fight city hall—he reasoned with them—and reason won out.

So, for at least a few more years, PEOPLE, not "progress" is Watsonville's most important product. This LITTLE man shall remain nameless, but he is very BIG in my book.

THE QUESTION BOX

What were the most frequent topics of conversation at the last party you attended?

Do you believe that war is inevitable—an intrinsic part of man's nature?

When was the last time your whole family rolled on the floor with laughter?

What do you spend more time with—"things" or "ideas"?

A TOUCH OF THE LIGHT

Campbell Elementary School District Administrative Assistant, Fred Peterson, at a recent Board of Trustees Meeting, reeled off a ten minute list of class sizes, averaged every possible way. Upon completing this stupendous stack of statistics he remarked, "This reminds one of the statistician who drowned in a lake three feet deep—on the average."

PHARMACY PHACTS

By Allan Blaine

Despite some publicity to the contrary, no vitamin or vitamin compound should be taken in massive doses, according to government health authorities.

Carolers uphold yule tradition

For the fourteenth year the El Solyo Singers will carol parents and friends on the 1100 block of El Solyo Ave.

In 1954, children between two and eleven years began this tradition. Since that time, they have grown up, gone to college and married. So this year, the second generation of the El Solyo Singers will join in the caroling.

Originally under the direction of Mrs. Charlie Cole, the young singers were capable of rendering the simpler carols. Diane Cabral presently directs the group which now sings sophisticated carols.

Originally, the group was made up of members of families of Roger Hernandez, W. Weiland, J. Hurley, Davis, A. Hodos, E. Camin, J. Kirk, F. Nakamura, C. Cole and R. Shilling. Since that time, friends and relatives have joined the group.

Many who have moved from the area return for this occasion. After caroling, the singers will have refreshments in the Charles Cole home.

Choir presents four broadcasts

The Campbell High School Choir will broadcast Christmas melodies four times during the holiday season on KXRX Radio at 15 AM on the dial.

On Wednesday, Dec. 22 at 7:30 p.m. and Saturday, Dec. 25 at 3 p.m. the Campbell Choir will be featured by itself.

The Campbell High Choir combines with other area choirs in a Christmas program on Wednesday, Dec. 8, which will be aired on Sunday, Dec. 19 at 7 p.m. and Saturday Dec. 25 at 8 a.m.

Concerts by county help children

Employees at the County Department of Social Services are donating their energies to raising contributions for the department's Children's fund. The fund is administered through the County budget, but is supplied with money raised through the efforts of Social Services employees and community groups.

The most recent project is a Choral Club of Social Services employees who will put on three Christmas performances to raise contributions.

The Choral Club gave a concert on Dec.12 for the California Pioneers of Santa Clara County and will give others Dec. 22 and 23 for the public.

The public concerts will be at noon, in the Department of Social Services auditorium.

The club usually gives Children's Fund concerts in the Spring, Fall and at Christmas. They normally give up one lunch hour a week for practice, but in preparation for the upcoming concerts they are practicing twice a week.

In the past donations for the fund have been raised by employee bridge tournaments, and craft and bake sales. These supplemented donations made by interested community residents.

Christmas plans gain momentum

The women of the Congregational Church will gather for a slide presentation and Christmas Party on Thursday, Dec. 16 at 7:30 p.m. in Bennett Hall, 400 W. Campbell Ave.

A Christmas tree will be decorated with money which will be donated to Agnews Hospital.

The excitement of Christmas mounts at the Congregational Church as Reverend Anthony Meyers presents the final Advent, featuring Yuletide decorations, and the music of three choirs on Christmas Sunday, Dec. 19, the first service in the new Fellowship Hall.

Reverend Myers and his family will celebrate Christmas in Hamburg, Germany. The Myers are flying to Europe on Dec. 21 to share a family Christmas with friends and relatives in Germany.

BRIDAL SHOWER

Miss Sue Kelley was feted at a bridal shower recently given at the apartment of her sister, Pat.

Guests included her mother, Mrs. William T. Kelley of San Rafael, a sister, Debbie, and her fiance's mother, Mrs. Norris W. Byron of San Jose.

Friends in Sacramento, unable to attend, sent gifts by mail.

Sue will marry Dennis Wayne Byron on Sunday in San Francisco.

CARDS

Christmas cards from the heart again is the theme of special Christmas cards sold by the Santa Clara County Heart Association.

Delivery on the cards, which are tax deductible, takes about 10 days and they may be imprinted with the names of the sender.

Reproductions of the cards and order blanks are available at the Heart Association office, 1984 The Alameda, in San Jose, or by phoning 248-1517.

Service Club enjoys holidays

The Women's Service Club of Campbell holds their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Vernon Gring, 767 Liveoak Way, San Jose at 1 p.m., Wednesday, Dec. 22.

Mrs. Monte Estabrook, Mrs. Harold Strickland, Mrs. LBen Howard, Mrs. L. W. Besack, president, and Mrs. Gring are members of the committee planning the meeting. Mrs. L. W. Besack will preside.

Christmas and religious music will be sung by the four Swenson sisters.

Music services for Christmas

The First United Methodist Church, like many others in the community, observes a full schedule of Advent worship services, Christmas parties, and workshops culminating in the Christmas Eve worship service at 6:30 and 11 p.m. Friday, Dec. 24.

The first Christmas Eve service is earlier than it has been in the past. The choirs of the Methodist Church combine for a special ministry of music at 9 and 10:30 a.m., Christmas Sunday morning, Dec. 19.

"The Snow Lay on the Ground" and "God Rest You Merry Gentlemen" will be sung.

HAMILTON CHORUS---Students at Hamilton School display a little self-consciousness at being video-taped for replay at the school's annual holiday open house. The closed circuit television play back of the children's Christmas music allowed parents and their children to see the program over a regular television set.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM---Five of the kids who performed in the Christmas program last night at Rosemary School are Barbara Kuhn, as an angel, and Greg Scoppetone, Dalia Jacobi, Gordy West and Kelly Baker, as trees. Their skit, "The Tree Angel" was first on the program. The children are members of Mrs. Payne's 4th grade reading class. The program included songs, skits and a talent show.

Social Side

Wednesday, December 15, 1971

Theater group sings carols

The Youth Educational Theater Society of the Campbell Civic Actors Seminar Theater will sing in the Gran Plaza of the PruneYard Shopping Center on Saturday, December 18 at 2 p.m.

The group will present Christmas carols and a few selections from their coming production "Little Women," which is slated to open in February.

Musical director for the program is Mrs. Jeannette Morgan. Show director is Mrs. Gene L. Hofer, of Campbell.

JayCees help needy families

Because stores, individuals and school organizations have contributed generously to the JayCee's "Project Santa Claus," several more families will receive Christmas gifts and staples than originally expected.

Household items, can-openers, warm winter coats, children's clothing and large toys are still needed by the JayCees for their benevolent project.

For more information phone "Project Santa Claus" at 379-2785.

"LAS POSADAS"

"Las Posadas", a Christmas pageant depicting the birth of Christ will be re-enacted at Old Mission San Miguel, in the town of San Miguel, beginning at 3 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 19.

The entire community sings Christmas carols to the Infant Jesus and a padre blesses all the children. A lively game with the Pinata follows the ceremony. There is no charge.

ST. LUCY'S

St. Lucy's Church, 2350 Winchester Blvd., is holding a Christmas tree sale on the lot. A free cup of coffee goes with the purchase of a tree.

Heart's Delight meets Saturday

The Triangle Club of the Temple of Heart's Delight, Royal Order of Caritas, held its Christmas party last Saturday. This was Guest Day, also, with many members, including out-of-town guests, attending.

Among them were Mrs. Dean Adams, Grand Exalted Matron, San Jose; Mr. and Mrs. Rocky Hillyard, Grand Exhalted Patron and Grand Marshal, So. San Francisco, and Mrs. Mae Hensley, Grand Associate Matron, Modesto;

Mrs. Dorothy Springer, president of the club, presided and introduced Mrs. Harry Davies, who in turn presented Mrs. Katherine Hiebert, guest entertainer, who gave Christmas readings. The party closed with the singing of Christmas carols led by Mrs. Gertrude Wright.

Mrs. Eleanor Brown, exalted matron of the Temple of Heart's Delight, announced the next meeting of the group is Saturday, Dec. 18, at I.O.O.F. Hall, 276 Campbell Ave., at 8 p.m. A 6:30 dinner will precede the meeting and a ceremonial is slated for the evening.

Board gives holiday gifts

Members of the Santa Clara Valley District Garden Club will exchange Christmas gifts at their board meeting on Friday, Dec. 17.

The meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Charles Buran, director at 1288 Avis Dr., San Jose. Luncheon will be served by the hostess.

Plans for a salad luncheon and fashion show on Feb. 4 of next year, will be discussed.

Economic Stabilization Questions and Answers

Internal Revenue Service

Q - How long will the second phase of the Economic Stabilization Program last?

A - No time limit is being set. The objective is to end the program as soon as possible, but it will be kept in operation unitl the pattern of sharply increasing prices and wages has been broken. It will be ended when stability has been restored to the economy.

As we approach the goal, controls of particular sectors may be removed or relaxed when that action is consistent with the general objectives of the program and will assist the transition to price stability.

Q—May a retailer who does not have the required display of base prices in his store raise his price?

A—No. The Price Commission specifically requires the retailer to prominently display the base price of either those 40 items in each department which have the highest dollar sales volume or those items which amount to 50 per cent of total dollar sales for the department, whichever is less. These displays must be posted on or before January 1, 1972 and no price increases are allowed until they are posted.

BACK NEWS
HOMECOMING

Prospect's varsity football team ended the season in second place when it beat Branham's Teddy Bears, 48-22 on Thursday, Nov. 25. During half-time at that game, the 1971-72 Homecoming Queen was crowned.

This year the honor went to Julie D'Arpino, page two editor of Panther Prints. Her princesses were Debbie Fraser, a song girl, and Kathy Fazzio, a member of the Pink Panther drill team.

SPIRIT WEEK

The winner of the Spirit Week competition, which included hall decorating, slave purchasing, and individual class cheering at the rallies, was the freshman class.

SENIOR PLAY

The verdicts in the trial of Karen Andre, as seen in "Night of January 16th," were: November 18, not guilty; November 19, not guilty; and January 20, not guilty. Good characterizations and fine acting were given by all members of the cast.

HOMEMAKING TEST

On Tuesday, Dec. 7, interested senior girls took the Betty Crocker Homemakers' Test. This test is given each year to senior girls all over the United States. The girls of each state compete with all the other girls of that state.

The highest scorers from each state have their tests sent in to the National competition, where the tests are graded in comparison with all the tests from every state.

The highest scorers in the National competition are then eligible for home economics scholarships. The test covered all areas of a homemaker's life, from cooking to nutrition to home management.

DANCE

"Night of Nostalgia" was the theme for the annual Christmas Ball held Friday night, Dec. 10. Those attending were asked to wear either semi-formal attire or clothing from the '20's, '30's and '40's. Music for the dance was furnished by Jasper.

HOME EC OPEN HOUSE

On Thursday, Dec. 16, the Home Economics department of Prospect will hold open house. The open house will last all day and everyone is invited. Refreshments will be made by the cooking classes, and the clothing classes will exhibit some of the things they have made.

The senior homemaking students will also display things they have made in their stitchery unit, including crocheted and embroidered wares.

ALL SCHOOL PLAY

A hit musical has been chosen as the play to be presented as the all-school play this year--"My Fair Lady." Tryouts for the play were held on: Dec. 6, major female roles; Dec. 7, minor female roles; Dec. 9, major male roles; Dec. 10, minor male roles.

CLUB NEWS
WEST VALLEY HIKING CLUB

The West Valley Hiking Club is planning a 8-day backpacking trip to the Grand Canyon. For further information, contact Kathy Weaver, junior.

ECOLOGY CLUB

The ecology club is selling a book entitled "Every Man's Guide to Ecology" in order to raise funds for the club. The club is currently trying to form a Student Lobby, which will attempt to involve the students with the political aspects of ecology.

SPORTS—BASKETBALL

So far in the basketball scene, Prospect's varsity is not doing very well, losing both pre-season games to Sunnyvale and Lynbrook, with scores of 49-36 and 67-40, respectively.

Frosh/Soph are doing better, having won both of their pre-season games with scores of 41-21 over Sunnyvale, and 38-34, Lynbrook.

SOCCER AND WRESTLING

Soccer and wrestling are coming up, but no scores are available at this time.

The Christmas Dance will be a "Winter Wonderland." The Dance will be held on Dec. 17 and the band will be the Dutch East India Company.

There will be a Christmas queen chosen at the dance. The five candidates are; Eva Ereno, Sue Fiock, Susan Linder, Sue McClintic, and Karen Volpe.

This year's Christmas program will be held on Dec. 15 at 8 p.m. in Del Mar's cafeteria. The choir will do a few numbers and the orchestra will also play. Some of the numbers will be combined. There will be a solo by Alice Robertson and a quartet by some of Del Mar's charming students. There will also be a Christmas play put on by a lot of hard working students.

The play is called "Emergency in Holiday Land", and will be directed by Mary Ann Bagetelos. The public as well as the students and faculty are invited to attend this program. There is no admission, so bring everybody.

SPORTS

Both the Varsity and Frosh/Soph teams won their opening games at Silver Creek, Dec. 3. The Varsity Team beat the Raiders 80-65, Paul Arace being the high scorer with 29 points. The score of the Frosh/Soph game was 63-40.

The Fall Sports Dessert was held in Dec. 1. Football awards went to: Mark Sevigny, Rediker Memorial Award; best lineman, Steve Williams; best back, Dave Hamilton and Jim Tardieu, most improved player.

The Varsity team will be playing in the Buchser Basketball Tournament scheduled for Dec. 15-17 and the Sunnyvale BB Tournament scheduled for Dec. 27-31.

The Del Mar Soccer Classic will be held Dec. 20-22, which many schools in the area will be participating in.

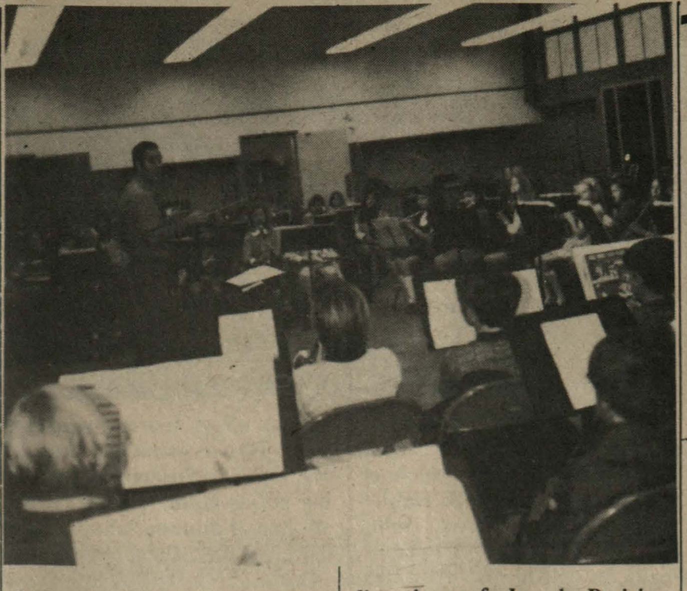
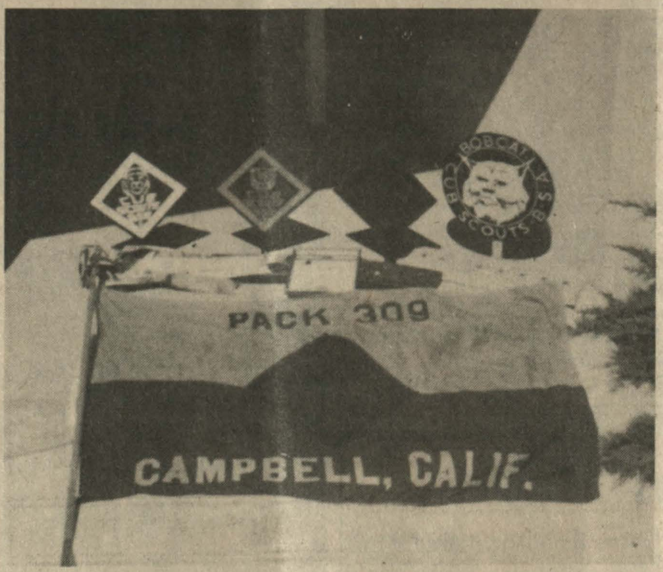
The band, directed by Joseph Parisie, is scheduled to play at Kirkwood Plaza on Thursday, December 16 at 10:30 a.m. Other music teachers in the Moreland School District, who led their students in Christmas programs, include James Tristan, Roger Merrill, Mrs. Judith Knight, Mauro Valcazar, of Castro Jr. High, and Mrs. Adrienne Casco, at Rogers Jr. High.



160 PIECE BAND PLAYS--- The combined bands of the Moreland Elementary School District will present a 20-minute Christmas concert at Kirkwood Plaza on Thursday, December 16 at 10:30 a.m. The 160 piece band, under the direction of Joseph Parisie, is composed of musicians from Moreland, Payne, Amber Drive and Anderson schools. The public is invited to the concert, in the main mall of Kirkwood Plaza, at the west end.

Cub Scouting has roots in Campbell



RELICS OF CUB SCOUTS

Research by Fred Lee Jones

Forty years ago in Campbell, then a sleepy cannery town, an English clergyman welded 12 young boys into Cub Pack One, allegedly the first Cub Scout Pack in America.

The Pack, led by Reverend Joseph Henry Bennett, was awarded a charter by the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America on January 17, 1931.

The pioneering original members of the group were Bobby Cuthbert, Glenn DuBois, Thomas and Dave Farley, Sanford Hedegard, Basil Howe, Edwin Kersgard, Frank Lopes, Roland Smith, and Charles and Robert Tidd.

Bennett's timing in establishing the Campbell Pack was crucial and not far short of sensational. Before 1927, the year Bennett came to America, all efforts at establishing a younger Scouting program had uniformly failed because of lack of information, backing and commitment.

In 1927 an advisory committee formed by the Boy Scouts of America was granted $50,000 to study the possibility of a Scouting program for younger boys.

Advice gleaned from thousands of leading psychologists, sociologists, teachers and executives, indicated that young boys would respond even better than older ones to the Scouting program. Thus the report back to the National Council was in two words. FORWARD, MARCH!

The Campbell community was ready for the catalyst of Bennett's leadership and the young boys, like their counterparts all across the continent, were eager to join their older brothers in exploring the excitement of Scouting.

Bennett and the Cubs met in a dirt basement beneath the old Congregational Church on North Central Ave., near where the sleek new City Hall now stands.

The Cubs christened their dug-out meeting place a Wolf Den, after the Canadian wild wolves and cubs that roamed the Northern wilderness.

Lord Baden Powell had started a similar Wolf Cub program in England nearly 20 years earlier. Powell, an acquaintance of Bennett's, was also founder of the original Boy Scout movement which was incorporated in America in 1910.

Activities of the Campbell Cubs, nicknamed "Bennett's Army" ranged from handcrafts to overnight outings. Some of the episodes about which former Cubs reminisce in moments of nostalgia include trips to Santa Cruz Beach, Felton, Saratoga Springs and Big Basin.

One Wolf Cub, Sanford Hedegard, recalls the time he was injured on one of the outings. Bennett, the only person around who had Sanford's rare blood type, gave the boy a blood transfusion that probably saved his life.

The handcrafts end of Cub Scouting filled a vital need for growing boys at a time when the public schools offered few programs for the development of manual dexterity. A variety of crafts were taught in the old church basement, which also housed the meetings of Sea Scouts and Explorers, along with other groups.

As the experimental Cub Pack grew step by timid step, more and more members of the community caught Bennett's enthusiasm and extended helping hands to the group.

Among those who gave their time and encouragement to the Cub Pack were Dorothy and Hancie Naylor, school teachers; Guy Farley, Carl Field and Nick Hedegard; committeemen, and Kathryn S. Jones, Vi Bohnett and Gladdis Morton, early Den Mothers.

Word of Bennett's success was passed along, and Wolf Cub Packs sprang up in Willow Glen, Cambrian and other Bay Area communities.

By 1933 experimental restrictions on Cub Scouting were removed and in 1935 the first director was appointed. Since its first halting steps in Campbell Congregational Church basement, the movement has spread to over seventy countries, with young members numbered among the millions.

The son of a poor British miner, Bennett ministered to fishermen along his native coast before coming to California at the invitation of the Board of Deacons of Campbell Congregational Church.

Bennett died in April, 1956 at the age of 69.

Today Bennett's memory is honored by a hall in his name that now houses the meetings of a variety of community activities on the new church property, 400 West Campbell Ave.

Dobie Jeffers, a former Cub Scout leader and local businessman, supervised the construction of Bennett Hall by those who had known and worked with the energetic British preacher.

Campbell High School will be collecting canned foods for the needy on Thursday, Dec. 16. They are hoping that everyone, students and parents alike, will bring canned foods tomorrow until 3:30 p.m. to the main office at Campbell High School. The five people bringing in the most canned goods will receive one of five prizes which includes 10 gallons of gas.

Campbell's Annual Christmas program will be presented Wednesday, Dec. 15, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium. The program, which is called "Campbell High School's Christmas Gift", will be free to the public.

Performing will be the orchestra, led by William Perkins, and the choir, led by Clarence Savage. They will perform well-known Christmas favorites. Also featured will be a play directed by Mr. Williams, called the "Dust of the Road", and Alden Skinner playing the organ. The Pirettes will also do a routine.

Campbell's Varsity Basketball team, in their featured game in the Oak Grove Tournament scored a victory of 72-63 over Oak Grove.

High scorer of the game was Dave Bush with 33 big points. Other leading scorers were Goldy Hahn with 14 points, Dan Takacs with 13, and John Forbes scoring 5 points.

Buc cagers win tourney

Led by Dave Bush, who [illegible]ured 21 points through the [illegible]ket, including the final two on free throws, Campbell High defeated Silver Creek Saturday 59-55 to win the championship of the second annual Oak Grove Invitational basketball tournament.

Steve Davis scored 15 points for the Bucs.

There were eight teams in the tourney. Teams participating were Campbell, Silver Creek, Andrew Hill, Los Altos, Gilroy, Oak Grove, Gunn and Palo Alto.

In the annual Westmont Christmas Basketball Tournament played at Westmont last weekend, Monta Vista defeated Cupertino for the championship by a 60-47 score.

Other teams playing included Pioneer, Los Gatos, Cubberly, Leland, Branham and Westmont.

Steve Davis, 17 year old senior student at Campbell High School, was awarded a $1000 scholarship as outstanding scholar-athlete in Northern California last week.

Davis, a fullback with a 3.88 gradepoint average, was presented the Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf award at a dinner honoring 22 athletes at the Jack Tar hotel. Sponsor was the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

Present were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey (Al) Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Perry, family friends; Al Mathews, CHS head football coach, and Mrs. Mathews; Wayne Brooks, assistant football coach, and Mrs. Brooks; Bob Peck, CHS principal, and Bob Osborne, CHS director of athletics.

Featured speaker at the dinner was George L. Murphy, president of the association and former U.S. Senator. John Brodie, famed 49er quarterback, made the presentation.

Four other athletes were also honored as leading back, lineman, leader and scholar. These awards went to John Raccanelli, back, San Mateo County; Dave Baker, scholarship, Alameda County; Mark Kreutz, leadership, Solano County; and John Bigwood, lineman, Contra Costa County.

Dignitaries and sports figures who attended the banquet included Buck Shaw, Ernie Nevers, Nello Falaschi, Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf, Y. A. Tittle, and Gordie Soltau.

Davis' award included a plaque which is on display at the high school.

Medical Center has meetings

A series of informative programs for disabled persons and their families is being planned by the Rehabilitation Department of Santa Clara Valley Medical Center.

The sessions will be for persons who have suffered spinal cord injuries, strokes or arthritis. They are not intended to substitute for patients' visits to their own physicians, but rather to be informative to their patients and their families.

Possible topics to be discussed include building accessibility for cripples, recreational opportunities and patient, community and family understanding of problems associated with stroke.

Topics for the meetings will be expanded as indicated by community needs and response.

Those interested in attending meetings or with suggestions for their content should write to Rehabilitiation, Santa Clara Valley Medical Center, 751 S. Bascom Ave., San Jose, California 95128.

Prospect places five on all-league first teams

Prospect High dominated the varsity West Valley all-league team by placing five on the first teams (offense and defense).

Saratoga, the league champions, and Los Gatos had four each with Campbell and Branham placing three each.

Two from Camden made the top teams while Blackford, Leigh and Del Mar were represented by one player each.

Steve Davis, outstanding back for Campbell, and Rory Lucas, guard, were named to the first offensive unit, while Mike Cargill, end, was selected for the first team defense.

An unusual feature of the selection this year was that Rick Beatty of Saratoga was named on both the offensive and defensive teams as was John Baggerly of Los Gatos. Beatty was also named the most valuable lineman. Cliff Johnson, of Saratoga, was named most valuable back.

Five Campbell players were named to the second teams. Kelly Davis, back, and John Myers, tackle, were put on the second team offensive unit, and Tim Marotti, lineman; Ron Yount, linebacker, and Mike Donecho, halfback, were selected for the defense.

Honorable mention: QB: Pat Dawes, Westmont; Backs: Tino Rodriguez, Camden; Rick Gonzales, Branham; Neil Sliger, Blackford; Gerald Galloway, Branham; Center: Jerry Orlando, Branham; Guard: Terry Hart, Westmont; Chuck Uhler, Branham; Tackle: Otis Page, Saratoga; Ends: Rich Rutger, Westmont; Jim Zetterquist, Del Mar; Eric Kittleson, Saratoga; Terry Marino, Branham; Jim Vaughn, Los Gatos.

Pharology, the science of lighthouse design, is named for the Island of Pharos on which stood the Pharos of Alexandria, a 450-foot high lighthouse, one of the Seven Wonders of the ancient world.

YOUNG BRAVES HIT WAR-PATH!---Dressed in costumes they made, the Y-Indian Guides of the Campbell Caguga Tribe and their fathers marched in the annual Los Gatos Christmas Parade on a recent Sunday afternoon.

The fathers and sons that belong to the Caguga Tribe are looking forward to a weekend camp-out at Campbell on the San Lorenzo River. Purpose of the Y-Indian Guides is to build a closer relationship between fathers and their young sons, as exemplified in their slogan "Father and Son, Pals Forever."

First, second and third grade boys meet in small, intimate Y Tribes twice monthly. Fathers and sons are required to participate in all activities together.

"CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS" GUIDE

Wrap up this CHRISTMAS early

Student Set Starts Bicycling Boom; State, Private Agencies Give Hand

Winter fitness — bundled warmly, bicyclists are discovering that even in blustery weather when street conditions are dry, cycling can be fun, especially on those newly-delivered Christmas wheels. The Bicycle Institute has some ideas, too, for winter bike fun. While stores are featuring festive windows and whole neighborhoods are out-doing each other with Christmas decorations, a Christmas bike tour can be great fun for the family crowd.

If all the bicycles Santa Claus is expected to deliver this Christmas were laid end to end, they would stretch out almost 2,000 miles, or roughly, from White River Junction, Vermont, to the outskirts of Amarillo, Texas. And if Santa expects to get them all delivered in one sled, he'd better add a few more reindeer power than he's already got on hand, for this Christmas' bike load will weigh in at a hefty 40,000 tons.

In simpler terms, American families are expected to buy nearly two million bikes this Christmas, more than in any other Christmas buying season in history. Recession or not, America is experiencing a bicycle boom of supersonic proportions, and total 1971 sales are expected to approach 8.5 million units.

Explain Popularity

Good health and physical fitness, economical means of transportation, a near-perfect vehicle for family recreation, an absolutely non-polluting vehicle . . . all these adjectives apply to the bicycle, and, taken collectively, they help explain the bike's growing popularity, not only with millions of kids, but with growing numbers of not-so-youngsters over 30.

Additionally, the bike has almost universal appeal. Tall or short, thin or fat, black or white, rich or poor . . . . anybody can ride one. Bike riding requires no special skills, nor a high degree of athletic prowess. And American manufacturers are producing a wider variety of styles, sizes, colors, models, optional equipment and price ranges than ever before. Literally, there is an American-made bike to fit every taste, need and pocketbook. This year's Christmas bikes can cost as little as $30 and as much as $350, with the average price running somewhere between $50 and $150, depending on quality and optional equipment.

A big contributing factor to the current bike boom is the fact that there are more places to ride a bike — more interesting, pleasant places—than ever have been . . . . and more are on the way. For just as the federal highway building program has helped stimulate auto sales, so too, the recent growth of federal, state and local Bikeways development has made bicycle riding a more popular activity for whole families.

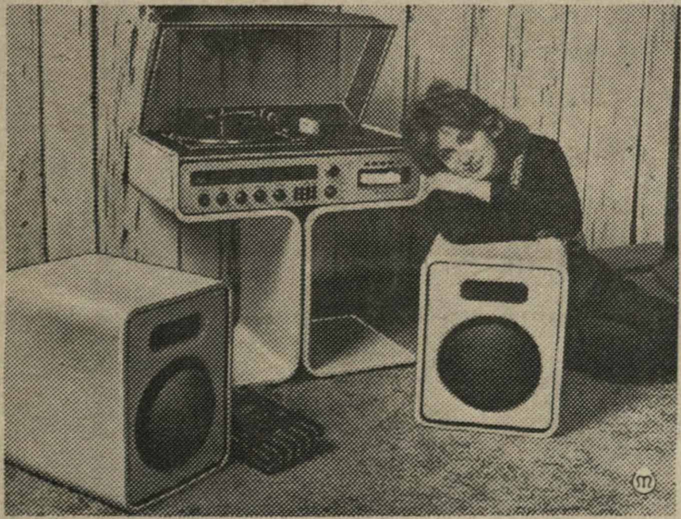
Nearly 10,000 miles of specially marked Bikeways, paths and trails have been developed across America in the last seven years, with the Bicycle Institute of America cooperating with the U.S. Departments of Interior, Agriculture and Commerce, as well as with many state and private agencies in the development of the scenic, historic and recreational trails.

Leads Way

Recently, the state of Oregon passed historic legislation, decreeing that a minimum 1% of all state highway funds be spent on bike and foot trail development. In 1972, this will amount to nearly $2.5 million in Oregon. In Washington, Congressman Ed Koch (D-N.Y.) and Senators Alan Cranston and John Tunney (D-Cal.) introduced identical versions of the Bicycle Transportation Act of 1971 into their Houses.

This bill would provide matching funds from the federal highway trust fund to states and communities for bike path construction. To those who have been struggling for bike trails over the years, this means that the good times are a'comin.

Christmas Components



Sound Christmas gifts are always a great idea, especially when they're stereo and come in dramatic new shapes like this floor-component system from General Electric. Crafted of molded plywood with a white lacquered finish, it features a built-in 8-track stereo tape player as well as automatic record changer and FM/AM/FM-stereo radio.

New Look in Big Sound

A new look in big sound — The Campusette (YZB-532), exemplifies RCA's expression of popular Italian free-form styling in consumer products, with a finish combining pecan graining and sculptured white plastic. The Campusette is a cassette player/recorder equally at home on campus or in a family's station wagon headed for a vacation. About the size of a standard dictionary, the Campusette both plays back pre-recorded cassette cartridges and permits recording of other material. With up to a full hour of recording time possible, a voice activated mike conserves tape. The Campusette is optionally priced at $79.95.

Santa Claus Has Come to Town

Brilliant Store Displays Unveiled, Reveal Most Versatile Gifting Choices

With a jingle of bells and a jolly "Ho-ho," Santa Claus has arrived early this year to open the Christmas shopping season.

He's beaming broadly because stores are ready for his arrival — windows bedecked and counters agleam with the brightest selection of holiday gifts assembled in many a year.

But he also brings a fatherly warning, gleaned from his years of experience as the best-known gift-giver of all: "Take a look at the calendar. Wrap up your shopping early."

There are only 25 shopping days between Thanksgiving and Christmas and Santa's early arrival has one important purpose.

He's here to remind Christmas shoppers that careful planning and early action will make their holiday errands more fun and gift-giving more successful.

The very abundance of gift selections demands considered choice. Early shoppers also avoid the chance of disappointment that comes with depleted stock or late deliveries.

Santa recommends browsing first — inspecting the dazzling array of gifts before making out your list. Big gifts, especially, need some thoughtful consideration. Jewelry and furs, for instance, should be chosen with loving care. Major appliances, TV sets, furniture, and automobiles involve delivery problems.

Stores are prepared to make special efforts for Christmas deliveries, but you can help Santa — and yourself — by getting your orders in early.

Tomorrow is none too soon to begin. Shoppers can get a good head start by looking over the ideas suggested in this special gift section. In addition to the pictures and stores, ads from leading local stores present the highlights of their holiday gift collections.

Toy Tour

Touring Toyland with the kids is a happy, traditional way to kick off the gift shopping season. It seems to put the whole family in the mood for Christmas planning, and the children, of course, get lots of ideas for holiday hints to Santa.

Many new toys are geared to help youngsters express themselves creatively, whether they lean toward arts and crafts, homemaking or building skills. Dolls are more varied and active than ever — the newest fashion mannequins have life-like suntans and can dance!

Another good family shopping project is the careful selection of major gifts for the home. These should be chosen early. Often they are inspected by the family in full force. Included in this category are furniture, appliances for the laundry and kitchen, and various types of electronic entertainment equipment.

Some gifts, of course, involve private errands — the secret surprises from person to person. An early shopping start helps provide time for slipping away to choose those special gifts. And there are so many special precious items to choose from!

Fresh Fashions

Holiday fashions for men and women are now at their freshest and best. Don't forget the youngsters, either — growing children always need clothes.

Gifts to Enhance Her Beauty, Much Desired

What once was a slow process, setting milady's hair, is now quick and easy with General Electric's new Mist/Condition Speedsetter, a welcome gift for almost any female on your Christmas list. GE offers a choice of setting hair with mist, with conditioner or dry. This Mist/Condition Speedsetter has 20 tangle-free rollers that all fit on any of the uniform-size heating posts. Another convenience feature is the comfort control to regulate the temperature of the roller.

Instant Eye Artistry

Instant eye artistry is hers when you give a Six-Color Shadow Kit from Cover Girl Eyes — neat little cases with a whole wardrobe of shadows and highlighters keyed to individual eye color.

Electric Magic Furnishes Aids She'll Welcome

Mirror, mirror on the wall, what's the perfect gift for the fairest Mom of all? Beauty aid gifts, of course!

And, if there's a special lady on your list who enjoys pampering herself, there's a big selection of ideas for her vanity and boudoir.

Tip-to-toe electric beauty wizards give Mom the comfort and luxury of professional salon care right in the privacy of her own bedroom.

Electric rollers are sure to go straight to Mom's head.

A ten minute set is all it takes to hold even the fanciest hairdos.

Just watch Mom glow when she unwraps her electric facial sauna! Even the busiest homemakers find time in a hectic schedule for a weekly treatment that purifies the skin with a soft mist for a complete facial cleansing.

Lighted mirrors help Mom master the art of making herself up for day, evening or office.

Various lighting effects show exactly how to achieve the right look from dim candle light to fluorescent overhead lights.

For a professional manicure or pedicure, Mom can clip and shape with an electric set complete with different attachments for cuticle and nail care.

Shavers with special shaping are another grooming idea. Many come with settings to adjust for legs and underarms.

Hair dryers come in the miniest tote-abouts to hooded models that fit over large rollers.

The heat is evenly circulated for uniform, fast drying time.

Small blower dryers are ideal for Moms with short, wispy curls since they make styling easy while the hair is drying.

And to top off her beauty plan, every Mom deserves a balanced diet of wigs!

Besides being a gal's best friend in hard-to-hold hair weather, easy-care mod-acrylic wigs give Mom a chance to be a quick-change artist for last-minute social engagements.

Wigs are also fun ways to step out of the ordinary with different hair colors.

A gift of fragrance is sure to please any lady on your very special gift list. The warmth of the fragrance and your thoughtfulness will linger long after the Christmas season is over. One of the world's most popular scents — Desert Flower — appears in glamorous, new packaging and is available in a wide selection of combination gift sets and single items. By Shulton.

POP-UP MODULAR STEREO — Heralding the "new look" in home stereo for Christmas is Zenith's Latham with built-in cassette stereo recorder/player and FM/AM/Stereo FM radio all encased in a pop-up section with control panel on the front. Two matching speakers plus two microphones are included.

Consider Wide-Ranging Suggestions In Light of Leisure Time Interest

Christmas gift suggestions for the man who does everything — especially if he's a cigar smoker. Pictured above are a variety of gifts, each of which will please your personal Santa; including a humidor chock-full of his favorite cigars; a cigar cutter; a lighter; deep ash-tray; and a silver cigar holder. (Accessories courtesy of Alfred Dunhill of London, Inc.).

With the growing interest in leisure-time activities, the most rewarding gifts for the man in your life are those he can use for his non-working hours.

Is he the outdoor type? Does he fish, horseback ride, hunt or canoe? How about a new spinning rod or a riding crop? If you're going big, buy him a new tent, sleeping bag or air mattress.

Or a new cooler, a lantern or fancy flashlight. Stocking stuffers—flashlight batteries, spinning reel, casting flies, pocket knife.

Is he a do-it-himselfer — adding a new wing to the house, building a pool or a patio? An electric drill, bricks or fancy tile to build the barbeque—gifts like these could get him started on the renovating you want, too.

For Less Money

Want something for less money — how about glass holders that attach to the folding chairs or a great-looking hanging ashtray for his cigars when he wants to relax after doing all that backyard work?

Is your man a sports buff? Tickets to the "big game" of his choice—basketball, baseball, football, soccer or indoor polo — can't miss pleasing him.

Or a new cushion to sit on — a hip flask and cigars to keep him satisfied as well as comfortable.

For the fashion-conscious man—a tie is no longer considered a tired, unimaginative gift. What about some of the great-looking neck chains with a handsome medallion, the wildest argyle socks to go with his new suit, or a velvet smoking jacket for lounging in comfort after work.

For the man of leisure around the house — a lava lamp for his den. A sheepskin rug for the floor. Make an extra comfortable corner for him to relax in — if you want to go for the works — a new lounge recliner, that shelving he's been wanting, a big stand-up ashtray for cigars and a new humidor to keep his gift cigars fresh.

For the man concerned with his weight and physical fitness, there is a whole array of exercise equipment running from simple hand grippers to a built-in sauna. If he's into health foods—stuff his stocking with a jar of sunflower seeds or sesame nuggets.

How to really pamper him at Christmas. Give him a whole selection of cigars.
